ABOUT WOLFLOW

WolFloW is a dance performance that gives shape to a strong female universe. Following the connection between wolves and woman presented by author Clarissa Pinkola, the performers become a pack and express some faces of the wild women archetype. Also, the work addresses the history of the feminist struggle from a subjective perspective, connecting the lives of our grandmothers and mothers to our own.

ABOUT THE MAKER

Laisvie Andrea Ochoa is an Colombian-Lithuanian choreographer, inclusive dance expert and video artist. She is the leader of "ConCuerpos", the pioneer inclusive dance company in Colombia where functional diverse dancers come together to develop artistic, educational and research projects. At the moment, Laisvie is studying a MA in Choreography at CODARTS/Fontys in The Netherlands and previously she studied Psychology and a Specialization in Multimedia Creation. As an independent artist, Laisvie has developed projects in relation to new media and dance since 2005 when she began to make video-dances. Currently, the creation of multimedia performances is one of her main creative explorations, alongside with addressing political and human themes. Her role has evolved from directing and editing to choreograph and do live projection in her performances.
